DETAILED ACTION

1. This Office Action is responsive to the amendment filed on 2/25/2011.
2. The objections and rejections not addressed below are deemed withdrawn.
3. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office Action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. Claims 1, 3, 4, and 6-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kinouchi et al, WO 2003/046080 (of record). .

The rejection stands as per the reasons outlined in the previous Office Action, incorporated herein by reference.

5. Claims 1, 3, 4, and 6-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hirano et al, WO 2002/091507.

The rejection stands as per the reasons outlined in the previous Office Action, incorporated herein by reference.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 2/25/2011 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Art Unit: 1765

7. Regarding the allegedly unexpected results: Applicant cites Example 2 in the specification, which discloses a block copolymer having the following structure, as evidence of unexpected results.

8. As shown above, the block copolymer of Example 2 has a structure wherein the acid-free and acid-containing segments are connected via octafluorobiphenyl linking groups. The Examples of Hirano and Kinouchi do not disclose the use of a fluorinated reagent to link the blocks of their respective block copolymers; the prior art block copolymers therefore do not contain the octafluorobiphenyl linking groups shown in the structure above. As discussed in paragraph 13 of the previous Office Action, it is therefore unclear whether any differences in properties between the claimed invention and the prior art copolymers 1) are due to the presence of these octafluorobiphenyl linking groups, which are not required by the claimed invention; or 2) result from the combination of limitations recited in the claims. As applicant has not provided evidence demonstrating that the allegedly unexpected results are derived from the limitation(s) recited in the claims, the rejection is maintained.

Conclusion

9. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
